ILL BE PAID IN GOLD

To any of our customers, or to any resident within a radius of fifty miles who will coin and supply us with a perfect substitute for that much used and abused word BARGAIN! This word appears to be isolated in its ex-pressiveness and has consequently been well-nigh ridden to death in its peregrinations up and down and over and across this fair land of ours. It is a word that carries with it to-day a much broader meaning than has been ascribed to it in years gone by, and one that is inseparably linked with almost every line of goods shown over our counters. It is impossi-ble for us to do without it in its equivalent. COIN US A NEW WORD that will be a good substitute, aside from those commonly used and which DO NOT express the same meaning, and we will turn over the above amount in gold! Terms of contest simply require the filling out of blank attached and sending to our address:

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and about the City.

THE GRAND this evening—Bartholo-mew's "Equine Paradox."

SEVERAL of the Baltimore & Ohio sec-tion hands have been laid off for a week.

A PATENT has been granted to Freder-ick M. Strong, of this city, for a cooking apparatus.

THE big belt in Klevia, Kraft & Co.'s mill broke Tuesday and in consequence the mill was idle for half a day.

A MEETING of the county commis-sioners was held yesterday, but nothing was done besides the routine work of auditing the monthly bills.

THE Associated Glass Manufacturers and the A. F. G. W. U. met yesterday in Pittsburgh to try and settle the wage scale for the ensuing year. They will likely be in session several days.

CLERK Hook yesterday admitted to record two deeds of trust and a deed made July 29 by the Greenwood ceme-tery association to Louisa King, for $120, lot 126 in section K of that ceme-tery.

C. D. McCARRY, the contractor, has about completed the Braunleisch block, on Zane street. It is one of the best buildings on the island and shows up in good style. Mr. Braunleisch moved in yesterday.

SQUIRE DUNKING yesterday gave Mrs. Holden and a man named Stumpner a hearing at the jail, on the charge of illicit cohabitation, but the evidence did not warrant holding them and they were discharged. They were in jail several days.

ORDINARILY the city employees and officials receive their pay on the last day of the month, but instead of paying them off to-day, payday will be postponed until to-morrow, the first of the month, the getting out of the pay rolls having been delayed.

A CONCERT and somnambulist will be given at Wheeling Park this evening by the Opera House band. The excel-lent musical programme has been printed in the INTELLIGENCER, and it will be followed by fine fireworks. The attend-ance will doubtless be large.

A MEETING of the Woman's Hospital Association has been called for this afternoon at the hospital for the pur-pose of considering propositions to in-crease the funds in the treasury during "Fair Week." A large attendance of the members of the association is de-sired.

DETECTIVE FRITZ COLMAN, incidentally attached to the staff of the Staats Zitung, last evening celebrated his eighteenth birthday. The American cornet band serenaded the young man in the evening at his home on the South Side, and he responded with the sleuth-like grace for which he is noted.

W. MASON, a Punch and Judy per-former, was sent up to the bill from police court yesterday in default of $5 and costs. Ed Tighe, a plain drunk, said he had been drugged and robbed of $10 and a watch. He was let go. John Casper, a Pole, for disorderly con-duct, was fined $5 and costs.

A Dailly Occurrence.

Last night Lieut. Gaus arrested Matt Dailley, who was on his daily spree, and raising a great racket at his domicile at the head of Twelfth street. He fasten-ed the door when the officer appeared, but it was forced open. He had a bottle of whisky, a loaf of bread and a paper of scrap on the table, and did not want to leave them at all. It required some force to make him change his mind. The lieutenant says the next time he will put house and all in the wagon and haul the whole outfit down to the lockup, the house being about the size of one cell.

A Picnic and Concert.

Yesterday afternoon and evening the German Pioneer Society gave one of its enjoyable family reunions and picnics at the park. The Opera House band made the music, and there were speeches by Dr. Ulrich, Ex-Mayor Seabright and others, and an original poem by Mr. Meyer. On the Elm Grove train return-ing to the city the band played "Auld Lang Syne," the effect being beautiful, and afterward at the request of Mr. Heymann it gave an impromptu concert on the city hall pavement, the piece de resistance, out of respect to gen-eral clamor, being "After the Ball."

Labor Day at Bellaire.

At their regular meeting last night the cigarmakers decided to go to Bel-laire next Monday to take part in the Labor Day celebration. The committee of the trades assembly has directed that Wheeling local unions intending to at-tend meet at the assembly hall at 8 a. m. on Monday, and march up Market street to Tenth, headed by a band. At Tenth street open cars will be taken for Benwood, where the organizations will cross by the ferry.

A MODEL SCHOOL.

Opening of Linsly Institute Monday, September 4.

That popular and successful institu-tion the Linsly Institute is now in the eightieth year of its existence, and with every succeeding year it grows more lusty and useful in its mission to edu-cate the youth of the city of Wheeling and vicinity. As the fall term opens on Monday next, September 4, a recital of some of the advantages it offers over other schools of its class may not be amiss. The reputation of the school has be-come quite extended of late years owing to the fact that graduates of the Linsly are received on certificate at many of the foremost universities and colleges of the country, and others have been admitted on examination.

It will be seen from this that the school has attained to a grade on which Wheeling and the State may well be congratulated.

Briefly, its design is to prepare boys for college, and to furnish a complete academical course for those who do not propose to take a full course of study, the curriculum, embracing the English branches, the classics and modern languages, and the instruction in each department being given by teachers of experience and graduates of colleges.

There is nothing more important in connection with the training of the mind of the youth than that his phys-ical condition should progress with the growth of his mental powers, for with-out proper exercise the one will suffer for the advancement of the other, and here is where the cadet corps of the Linsly Institute offers superior advan-tages over other schools. This depart-ment is under the personal direction of an officer of the United States navy, and the advantages that accrue to the student are discipline, respect for au-thority, and a polish of manner not otherwise attainable. This drill is com-pulsory with every student, save those who are physically disqualified. This branch of study cannot be too highly recommended nor its benefits, both moral and physical, overestimated. The gentleman in charge of this depart-ment, who has been detailed by the United States government, is Lieut. W. C. P. Muir, whose record at the naval department is of the highest character. He has been an instructor in the tor-pedo service and assistant professor at the naval academy.

In addition to the drill, there are gymnastic exercises in the spacious armory, the most modern appliances for the development of physical culture being used, in charge of a competent in-structor. This feature is one of the most valuable adjuncts to the proper mental training and education of the youth of to-day, as the results attained in this school unquestionably show. These features alone make the Linsly Institute pre-eminently the best school for boys in this section of the country, and one which the citizens of Wheeling and vicinity point to naturally with feelings of pride. Being easy of access and having the railroad facilities, now possessed by Wheeling, this school of-fers special advantages to residents of neighboring towns.

For information regarding catalogues, containing the terms and other informa-tion, address any member of the board of trustees, as per advertisement in an-other column, or the principal, John M. Birch, Wheeling, W. Va.
